

MATTHEW TREMBLAY

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT,
GLOBAL OFFSHORE MARKETS

Matthew Tremblay is the Senior Vice President of Global Offshore Markets at ABS. In his role, he leads global strategic planning and client development for the offshore energy and offshore wind market sectors, with a special focus on supporting clients in the energy transition through safe and innovative solutions.

During his 30-year tenure with ABS, Tremblay has served in a variety of engineering and leadership roles across the United States and Asia, including Vice President of Operations for the Pacific Division, based in Singapore and Vice President of Engineering for the ABS Americas Division.

Tremblay graduated from the Massachusetts Maritime Academy with a bachelor's degree in marine engineering. He is also a member of the American Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers (SNAME).